CROYDON, Nov. 3 — House-to-house delivery of mail in the Croydon area will be a reality in less than two weeks. In fact it is scheduled to go into operation on Wednesday, Nov. 16th, according to an announcement made today by postmaster Miss Marguerite Tryon.

The tracts where delivery will be made once daily (each morning) starting on the 16th are: Croydon Heights (plan 1), Croydon Heights (plan 2), Croydon Manor, Croydon Crest No. 1, Croydon Park, Croydon Land Co. 1, 2 and 3, New Croydon Land Co. 1 and 2, Croydon Annex No. 4, College Park 1 and 2, Maple Shade.

Residents of Bristol Heights, Bristol Park 1 and 2, Croydon Crest No. 2, will continue to have rural delivery from Croydon post office, but service will be extended, that is mail boxes now located along State road for these residents will be placed in front of the homes when notice is given by the post-office department, and families will not be obligated to send a distance to pick up mail.

There is to be one delivery each day, in the morning; and two carriers will be named.

The house numbering committeemen James E. Harris, chairman; William Knight, Earl Buck, Howard Taylor, Julie Koop, Olga Miller and Anne Barnes started May 28, 1949, and officially closed their labors September 30th.

The work involved assigning a number to every 25 foot lot in the following subdivisions: Bristol Heights, Croydon Heights Plan No. 1, Croydon Heights Plan No. 2, Bristol Park No. 1, Bristol Park No. 2, Croydon Manor, Croydon Crest No. 1, Croydon Crest No. 2, Croydon Park, Croydon Land Co. 1, 2, 3, New Croydon Land Co. 1 and 2, Croydon Annex No. 4, College Park 1 and 2, Maple Shade.

The committee worked every Saturday and Sunday and usually three nights every week, it is stated, and gave of their time and efforts of over 1500 hours gratis, this effecting a saving to taxpayers. A questionnaire was sent to everyone receiving mail either through Croydon post office or through R. D. No. 2, Bristol, with both postmasters cooperating.

To Stage Bonus Rally

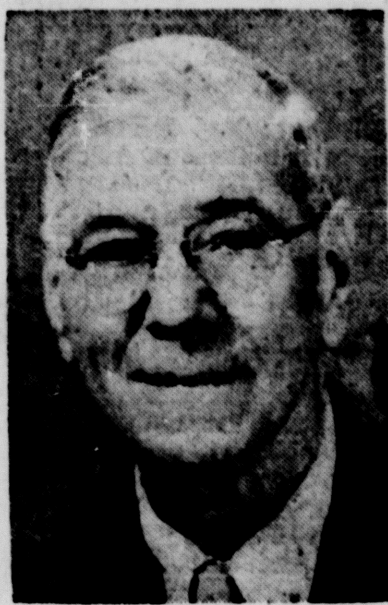

A "Bonus Rally" sponsored by Robert W. Bracken Post No. 332, American Legion, and Chester W. Terchon Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will be held this evening at eight o'clock in the Bracken Post Home, 619 Radcliffe street.

Those in charge urge all veterans and others interested to attend. Prominent men will tell why in their opinion voters should vote "yes" for the amendment 1-A at the election to be held Tuesday, November 8th.

It is announced that membership in a veterans' organization is not necessary for eligibility to attend this meeting. Both the local veterans groups are advocating support of the bonus.

Refreshments will be served free at the conclusion of the meeting, it is stated.

Members of Eagle Fire Company took time out a few days ago to flush out clogged drains at the corner of Bridge and Main streets, New Hope, with the use of high pressure hose streams. There had been numerous complaints and criticisms because of littered streets, and it was said that as a result, the drains became clogged.

Borough Council had previously advised all merchants in writing that gutters along their properties should be kept clean.

THE ISSUE IN BRISTOL

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE VOTERS

Dear Friends:

Mr. and Mrs. Voter of Bristol, the campaign is nearing its end.

There has been a good deal of talk about the Bristol election. Many issues have been brought up. But isn't the real question very simple?

Mr. and Mrs. Voter, here is where it stands.

At the end of the War, you said to your Bristol Government that you wanted certain improvements in Bristol.

You wanted better street pavings. You wanted new streets and alleys. You wanted better street lighting. You wanted a larger and better water supply. You wanted sewer extensions. You wanted better traffic conditions. You wanted more and better sidewalks. You wanted better fire protection. You wanted better police service. You wanted a better free parking lot. You wanted recreation grounds. You wanted a playground for children. You wanted the Municipal Building and other Borough property repainted and otherwise reconditioned. You wanted snow-plow service on main business streets. You wanted better garbage collection and better trash collection and cleaner streets.

Also, you wanted all these things furnished by your Borough government with the least possible increase in taxes—especially in your taxes on real estate. And you wanted them without plunging the Borough deep in debt.

Now, Mr. and Mrs. Voter, here is how it stands.

Your Borough Government, under Republican control and under the leadership of Burgess Jacob C. Schmidt, Sr., gave you all these things listed above.

They gave them to you with only trifling tax increases. Instead of the increased costs being loaded entirely on real estate, substitute sources of income were found. This held the taxes you pay on private dwellings and business properties down to the minimum.

As for the Borough's debt, it is almost exactly the same as it was three years ago, despite the fact that more than $100,000 was borrowed in 1947 to finance some of the improvements. Of the debt, $87,000 has been retired since then, and the sinking fund has been built up to $23,000—leaving the Borough's net debt almost exactly where it was.

There you have it, Mr. and Mrs. Voter.

The Republican Administration in Bristol gave you what you said you wanted, and gave it to you so efficiently that the extra costs have been painless to the taxpayers.

What are you going to do about it?

Isn't that the key question of this campaign.

ONE DIVORCE CASE

DOYLESTOWN, Nov. 3 — Newtown Bank and Trust Co. is being sued for the sum of $960.10. The suit has been entered by Grace D. Rooney, trading as the Homestead Restaurant, Newtown. The action in assumpsit is for $960.10 with interest from August 1, 1948.

The plaintiff, in a statement filed in the office of Prothonotary Isaac S. Gross, alleges that July 6, 1948, William O'Connor, an employee, deposited six separate deposits, but that she received credit for only five of the six deposits. The $960.10 deposit represented the receipts for July 4.

William F. Wendig, 3rd, Second Street Pike, Richboro, and Millicent Wendig, Philadelphia, have been named the defendants in a $2,347.28 action in assumpsit by Gimbel Brothers, Inc., of Philadelphia. The claim grows out of the purchase of merchandise, food and clothing between February and August 16.

Mrs. Brenda J. Acker, Lacey Park, has begun an action in divorce against her husband, John B. Acker, Lacey Park. They were married Oct. 7, 1948.

DOYLESTOWN, Nov. 3 — Dr. J. Edward Smith, regional superintendent, Doylestown schools, outlined the educational planning and the preliminary plans of the Central Bucks Joint High School at the meeting of the County Board last night. It was reported that the buildings' preliminary plans are expected to be approved by the Central Bucks Joint Committee on November 13.

The Central Bucks plans will make available more space and facilities for the money expended, than any other of the eight similar building programs now under way in the Philadelphia area. The present plan is the sixteenth revision prepared by the architects. Dr. Smith indicated that the facilities and county and state representatives had already had 14 conferences with the architects.

County Superintendent Charles H. Boehm pointed out that the Central Bucks building design will influence the construction of other secondary schools in eastern Pennsylvania. He said that the fact that this project was undertaken by eight schools would make it one of the outstanding projects in the

CORN TESTS

DAVIS, Cal. — (INS) — Thirty-six cent corn hybrids offered for sale in California by corn belt seed growers are being tested by the University of California to see if they are suited to California climatic and soil conditions.

Mrs. Frazier had gotten up to prepare breakfast for her husband, Richmond Frazier, Sr., and the latter had left for his employment. Mrs. Frazier did not feel well at the time, but was able to care for her household duties. She was caring, as was her custom, for her baby granddaughter, it being the habit of the child's parents, who live nearby and who are both employed, to call for little Hazel each morning. Mrs. Frazier stated that she felt something was wrong with the child early this morning.

When her condition became worse Mrs. Frazier attempted to dial her son's telephone number, and being unsuccessful, tried to dial that of her family physician, Dr. McGruder, Bristol. Her condition was evidently such that she was unable to operate the 'phone correctly. She then dialed a few figures at random, and when the telephone in the home of Harry McBrien, 439 Jefferson avenue, Bristol, rang, he heard a woman's voice faintly mumble a few words. He heard a few distinctly, however: "Frazier — Wyoming avenue — Dr. McGruder." Then there was silence.

Realizing someone was in need, Mr. McBrien, unable to use his own 'phone due to the connection not being broken on the other end when Mrs. Frazier collapsed, McBrien hurried to a telephone nearby and called Bristol police. He gave the meager information he had. Bristol police, in turn, called Chief of Bristol Township Police Joseph Seader. Seader and Bristol Township Supervisor John Wiedman (whom Seader had notified) arrived simultaneously at the Frazier home. They found Mrs. Frazier in a semiconscious condition on a couch in the bungalow living-room; and baby Hazel unconscious in bed in the adjoining bedroom.

Bucks County Rescue Squad members, who were summoned, were administering oxygen to the two within a few minutes, and Mrs. Frazier and the child, although seriously affected by the fumes, were revived. Their physician is in EDDINGTON, Nov. 3 — The annual ingathering of Cornwells Branch, Needlework Guild of America, was held on Tuesday in the lecture room of Eddington Presbyterian Church. Number of garments gathered this year is 127.

Words of welcome were expressed by the president, Mrs. Samuel Morrison. Mrs. Frank Simons led in prayer. The scripture was read by Mrs. Norman Gaugler, and minutes by the secretary, Mrs. Elmer Myers. Two hymns were sung, "Onward, Christian Soldiers" and "Work for the Night is Coming." The treasurer's report was read by Mrs. Edward Vansant. A vocal solo "My Cathedral" was rendered by Mrs. Otto Grupp, Jr.

The Labrador report was read by Mrs. Alfred Thompson. 252 garments being shipped to Labrador this year. Miss Isabella Jones, Labrador director, addressed the gathering. She spoke of the hardships the natives have in receiving medical care and of the difficulties of nurses and doctors in obtaining adequate transportation to hospitals for their patients.

The group was also addressed by Mrs. Frank Simons. Mrs. Simons was one of the organizers of the guild in Cornwells 45 years ago. She told of the guild's beginning and growth, of its work in helping deserving ones in home localities. The Labrador branch of the Guild was added in 1925. Two new directors, Mrs. William Brodhis and Mrs. Harold Roberts, were added. Presbyterian Missionary Society of Bensalem Church was also accepted as a director. The number of garments reported was 1297. The closing prayer was offered by Mrs. S. Morrison. After refreshments a short business meeting was held. Two new officers were elected, Mrs. Arthur Roberts, president; and Mrs. Otto Grupp, Jr., as vice-president.

A REMINDER OF THE BONUS

Next Tuesday is the day when the voters decide on the Pennsylvania bonus.

Whether you are for it or against it, it is your one chance to have your say.

As the State Constitution intended, this question is being put up to the voters themselves. The reason is that payment of the bonus would require the state to borrow half a billion dollars—much more than the Constitution permits the State Government to borrow without the consent of the people.

The bonus issue has no connection with the rest of the election next Tuesday. It is a non-political question. How you vote on the bonus has no bearing on how you vote in the rest of the election.

Two Republican State Legislatures and a Republican Governor passed the necessary laws to submit the question to the voters. The Republican Party, however, has not tried to play politics on this issue.

The Democrats are the ones who have been going around whispering: "If you want the bonus, you've got to vote Democratic."

That's rank nonsense. Probably it hasn't fooled one person out of a hundred who have heard it.

But don't YOU be one of the few who are fooled! Regardless of how you vote on the bonus next Tuesday, remember this: You can vote as you choose for the candidates on the ballot.

You can vote either for or against the bonus, and then mark your ballot for straight Republican.

To do this, look for the word Republican in heavy type, and put a cross after it, thus:

REPUBLICAN

A SUMMARY OF THE NEWS

The European Marshall Plan Council, reacting yesterday to ECA Administrator Hoffman's request for economic integration, decided that member countries should "adopt the objective of lifting quantitative controls from half their mutual trade by Dec. 15 and "widen the area" of currency transferability next year. European observers called the move tentative and feeble; Mr. Hoffman said the United States was looking for action rather than for resolutions.

It was learned that the United States, for political as well as economic reasons, would oppose the Food and Agriculture Organization's plan for an international commodity clearing house to transfer farm surpluses to shortage areas.

British labor jarred the Government's hope of averting pay rises in the wake of the pound's devaluation when leaders of unions whose pay is tied to living costs rejected any wage freeze.

The United States, with its program of aid to under-developed areas, will stay ahead of Russia, President Truman said. The ideology "backed by a moral code" will win, he said, because it will best serve the people of the world. The virility of this country is in danger of being weakened by too much "welfare state" personal security and we may be forced into a third war we can lose. Dr. Vannevar Bush, president of the Carnegie Foundation, warned.

More than 300 years of Dutch rule ended with the signing of a pact transferring sovereignty "unconditionally and irrevocably" to the new United States of Indonesia. The formal transfer will take place next month. The news was welcomed at the United Nations, where it was decided to retain a watchful eye over the area. The ECA sought ways to restore $40,000,000 in Marshall Plan aid suspended when hostilities broke out in Indonesia.

TEACHING ORIGINAL SIN!

Progressive education in the United States has been misrepresented—once by those among its opponents who made ill-informed charges, and again by those among its enthusiasts who lent color to these charges by going to ridiculous extremes. Now a torrent of abuse suddenly issues from a new source.

A Russian educator has just written an article on American progressive education in the Journal of Soviet Pedagogy. Both the theory and the practice of progressive education here, he says, is based on the dogma of original sin.

It teaches students "haughty contempt" for social problems and those interested in them. It seeks "to discredit science, to idealize religion, to cultivate animal nationalism." It aims at producing "neatness, obedience, diligence and love of your neighbor" in "non-thinking, non-resisting slaves of capital."

This hardly sounds like scholarly academic discussion. American critics of the progressive method fear that it does not instill patriotism. They mistrust its complete rejection of indoctrination in Americanism. But the Russian critic accuses it of having these qualities in excess.

The bolsheviks, in the early days when it was still official policy to prepare the Russian people for self-government at some distant future date, experimented with progressive education theories themselves. They soon abandoned progressive education in favor of Marxism. That may not prove, but it does suggest, that the theory may have some merit for a free country.

MOTHBALL FLEET

While it was known for several years that the Navy would be called upon to "economize," there is a surprise element in the announcement that it must lay up as many as 77 ships and slash its manpower by nearly 55,000 men. If a cut of such dimensions is actually necessary, then the Navy has indeed some ground for its complaint that it is presently the step-sister of the military establishment.

This order sheds illumination on the background of the explosive criticism which the Navy has leveled at the unification program and the consequent efforts of Secretary of Defense Johnson to effect some minor savings at the expense of the Navy. Navy men would be less than human if they did not protest against what they regard as discrimination.

In connection with this decision to put so many ships in mothballs and so many men into other fields of endeavor, two hopes—both futile—are shared by the American people. They hope that this is not an attempt to visit reprisals on the Navy for its attitude toward "unification" as currently practiced, and that the Navy has done all that it needed to do to inform the public.

Are you going to vote for the re-election of the Republicans who faithfully carried out your wishes, and did so with only a trivial tax increase, and no rise at all in the Borough debt?
Are you going to elect your support to those who carried out their promises?
Are you going to elect experienced, capable and tried-and-proven Borough officials?
Or are you going to repudiate the Borough Administration that has given you exactly what you said you wanted, and place in power at the Municipal Building a new group whose ability has never been demonstrated?
It's up to you!
Remember this—if you don't vote to support those who gave you the improvements you said you wanted, what Borough officials in the future are likely ever to seriously try to give you what you say you want.
Think it over!
If you agree that the Republican ticket in Bristol fully merits your support, you can give the whole ticket your indorsement with a single "X" on your ballot.
Simply look for the word Republican in heavy type on your ballot next Tuesday, and put a cross-mark after it, thus:

COMMUNICATION
Editor, The Courier:
Due to the number of inquiries we have had, asking us why we did not run our Halloween window decorating contest this year, we would like to make the following statement.
Our organization was prepared to offer the usual $75 in prize money for the contest but due to reasons beyond our control, there were no prizes and brushes available for the students this year.
We have finally succeeded in securing a sponsor to furnish the money needed to supply prizes and brushes but unfortunately we were unable to do so in time for this year's contest.
We wish it to be known that next year we are fully prepared to put on a larger and better contest than those held in the past.
Hoping that the students, merchants and the general public will bear with us.

Customer's Corner
Question: Does your A&P give you good food at low prices?
Answer: Yes. That is why millions of American families do all their shopping at A&P.
Question: Is A&P a monopoly?
Answer: No. We do only a small share of the nation's food business... a smaller share than we did 10 years ago.
Question: Does A&P drive competitors out of business?
Answer: No. We have more competitors today than we had 10 years ago and many of our good competitors have publicly advertised their willingness and ability to compete with us.
Why, then, do the anti-trust lawyers want to put your A&P out of business?

Co. School Authorities Hear of New Plans

The County Board approved the plans as outlined by Dr. Smith. Raymond W. Lloyd, County Advisor, Vocational Agriculture, was also present and discussed the veterans institutional on-farm training program which the county board sponsors for Bucks and Montgomery counties. He indicated that the recent increase in enrollment had taxed the capacities of the seven centers located at the following places: Newtown, Buckingham, Jamison, Perkasie, Revere, East Greenville, and Center Point. Mr. Lloyd commented favorably upon the character of instruction and the ability of the teachers in charge of the veterans. Currently there are 181 veterans enrolled in the course.

The County Board was favorably impressed by two recent publications for the citizens which were called to their attention by Superintendent Boehm. One of these was issued by the Palisades Joint School Board and the other by the Upper Southampton School Board.

The progress of the applications before the State Public School Building Authority for the following districts—Tahlequah Valley, Palisades, Central Bucks, Pennsbury, Lower Southampton, and Warrington School Boards—were reviewed.

The next meeting of the County Board will be held at Pennsbury Senior High School at which time the preliminary plans for the new junior-senior high school will be reviewed.

Caum states that the two boys have offered to withdraw from the journey but the class has refused to accept such action. The trip was scheduled for April 24, 25 and 26.

At the Frazier home bottled gas is used for cooking purposes, the service from a pipeline having been discontinued a number of years ago. Employees of Philadelphia Electric Co. were dispatched to the scene, and commenced digging to locate the source of difficulty, the pipeline still extending into the house.

Authorities were amazed that no explosion occurred, inasmuch as the pilot on the bottled gas hot-water heater was lighted; and the oil burner continued to operate.

For Justice of Peace Edward Lynn

heard every type of case from larceny to murder.

He has served faithfully and efficiently and has dispensed justice without fear or favor to all races and creeds. He has given unstintingly his advice and counsel to hundreds who have come to him with their troubles.

He is known to nearly every man, woman and child in the community, because of his identification with the movie business here since the first movie house was opened in the borough.

He has been active in political affairs for fifty years. He was a deputy internal revenue collector during the Taft Administration, and as connected with the Pennsylvania Board of Censors for several years during the Twenties.

Mr. Lynn was born of Quaker stock April 14, 1877, on Locust street in the Third Ward. His father, Cortland Lynn, a tinsmith, was a vendor of what has been proven litigation to have been the first motion picture machine made in this country. His mother, Charlotte Lynn, was well known for her activity in civic affairs. Both parents are dead.

When only eleven years old, Mr. Lynn took a position in Trenton, and later worked for a druggist in Philadelphia. In 1891 he became an employee of the Bristol carpet mills Thomas L. Leedom Co., and earned the weaving trade, which followed for seven years.

This position he left to become an operator in the first movie opened in Bristol, in what was known as Evans Hall, on the second floor of a building now occupied by the Rie's Furniture Store at Mill and Second streets.

In 1907, following the terrible downtown theatre disaster, stringent new laws prohibited theatres on second floors, and the Evans Hall theatre had to close.

After working for a short time in the Empire Theatre in Trenton, Mr. Lynn returned to Bristol as an operator of the motion picture machine, a theatre on Mill street called the Bristol.

The owners of this theatre, Harry Reeper and Edward Super, took over the Family Theatre, located on the site of the present Spencer's Furniture Store, and employed Mr. Lynn as operator. Later they took control of the Riverside Theatre, which stood on the site of the present Bristol Theatre.

When Messrs. Streep and Super dropped out of the movie business, Mr. Lynn became manager of both theatres. He closed the Riverside, and operated the Family until September, 1915.

That year the Forrest Theatre, a large and impressive structure standing on the site of the present Grand Theatre, was opened by Landow Brothers. Mr. Lynn became manager, and operated it until it was destroyed in a spectacular fire December 7th, 1926—during a night so bitterly cold that water from the fire hoses froze almost before it could reach the blaze.

The Grand Theatre was opened in January, 1928, with Mr. Lynn as manager, and he has operated it since.

Proof that Mr. Lynn's father was the originator of a movie machine in this country are to be found in the records of a suit filed some forty years ago by the Edison interests against a Chicago man charged with infringing on the Edison patent rights. The defendant undertook to show that the plaintiffs were not the originators in this country.

He referred to a picture machine called a zeptrope which had been shown in Cleveland, Ohio, during the early seventies by a man named Maxwell. It developed during the suit that Mr. Lynn's father had built his first model in 1873, and turned out six copies of it, which he sold to Maxwell who took them to Cleveland.

When Mr. Lynn, reading of the suit in a trades paper, wrote to the defendant offering to send the original machine for use as evidence, a settlement was promptly effected in the lawsuit. A great deal of newspaper publicity for Mr. Lynn resulted, and he was photographed and interviewed for many of the motion picture periodicals.

The original movie machine was on display for many years in the Forrest Theatre, but was destroyed when the building burned.

Because of his long service in the movie industry, and because he was employed for more than eight years by the state censors, Mr. Lynn is probably entitled to claim that he has seen more movies than any other human being. During some of his busier periods as operator and censor, he saw as many as 35 movies a day. In all, he has watched many, many thousands.

On November 29, 1899, he married Mary Hunter, of Bristol. They have three children and two grandchildren: W. Edward Lynn, an electrical engineer; Sarah F. Lynn, who lives in the Lynn residence on Otter street, and Leroy W. Lynn, who married Miss Claire Moffett of Bristol, and has two children, Katherine M., 4, and William E., 1.

Mr. Lynn is a member of Bristol Lodge No. 970, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks; Bristol Rotary Club; Fraternal Order of Police; Magistrates' Association of Bucks County; Fifth Ward Sporting Club; Bristol Y. M. C. A., and a director in the Loyal Republican Club of Buckingham. He is affiliated with the Presbyterian Church.

In 1923 he married Mary Grace Liodata. They have five children: Samuel, who served in the Navy for two and a half years during the recent war, and who has completed

Basketball fans of this section will see a variety of teams on the local court this season, according to the schedule as announced yesterday by Coach Jerry Bloom and athletic director, Harry McClister.

The Warriors have a schedule of twenty games with thirteen being played in the local "gym." The Bristol team is a member of the Lower Bucks League along with Morrisville, Bensalem, and Pennsylvania.

But the new teams will furnish the stiffest of opposition and included in these are Reading Catholic, Overbrook, and the strong Allentown High five.

Coach Bloom will begin to get his boys into shape next week and workouts will be held for those court players who are not on the football team.

The schedule follows:

There were 17 present.

SPORT NOTES

Coach Gordon Davies, of Morrisville High, stated that Quarterback Ed Oliver ran the Bensalem team just as good as any college back would have done when the Owls beat the Morrisville team two weeks ago.

Last Friday night, Millersville State Teachers College played West Chester. The two opposing quarterbacks were Wayne "Inky" Schneider for West Chester, and Dale Miller, of Millersville. Both of these boys graduated from and played for Langhorne High.

At Mt. Holly last Saturday, the open puppy stake at the fall field trials was won by Tommy Rosakis, pointer, Jim, Rosakis, of Farragut Avenue, also entered another pointer, Doc, which came in second.

"Steve" Juenger, former Bristol High coach, is considered to be one of the best basketball referees in the east. Juenger referees most of the college games in Philadelphia.

The coveted "Little Brown Jug" which Bristol and Burlington High will vie for Saturday is said to have been purchased in a New Jersey antique shop by "Bill" Dougherty, former coach of Bristol High. No one seems to know the age of the jug.

St. Ann's A. A. has practically clinched a playoff berth in the Northeast Football Conference. The "Saints" have won five games and will receive another on a forfeit as New Delphi withdrew from the circuit. Its remaining games in the loop are with Holmesburg, this Sunday, and Cheltenham, two weeks from Sunday. Both of these games are away.

Courtesy to the officials seems to be a lost art with the football teams of this section but the Bordentown Manual Training School still retains this custom. When inquiring about decisions, time, etc., the Bordentown captain always asks: "Mr. Referee or Mr. Umpire, why was that penalty imposed?" Most of the others say: "Hey, what was that for?"

Coach Jerry Bloom wasn't kidding when he said that Bristol was going to have its strongest basketball schedule in years. New teams are Reading Catholic, St. James Catholic of Chester, Overbrook, and Allentown. Bloom claims that the Bristol boys can learn a lot more by playing teams of this calibre.

committee in numbering were Neshaminy Creek, Delaware River and Bristol-Burlington Road with Pennsylvania Railroad as a dividing line. Each cross street started a new 100 series of numbers both east and west, north and south.

A master map, showing numbers assigned by blocks was first submitted to township authorities for approval as well as numbers assigned to each lot, before giving out numbers to individuals. The postal authorities were consulted also for suggestions and the original plan was then carried through.

Take a long Look at yourself in a Pittsburgh Plate Glass Door Mirror

YOU CAN MEET THE GAZE of a critical world serenely if you check your appearance in a Pittsburgh Plate Glass Door Mirror before going out. It tells you your ensemble and make-up are right, banishes fears of crooked seams and "showing" slip. You see yourself as others see you—from head to toe.

THE MAN OF THE HOUSE needs a full-length mirror, too. No more crouching and craning to see if everything is satisfactory. The full-length mirror fits the man—he doesn't have to try to fit the mirror! He'll feel better, he'll look better when his full-length mirror tells him he's perfectly groomed.

LUCKY THE CHILD who has a full-length mirror in her room. When a "young lady" can view herself from every angle she will be more careful of her appearance... more likely to develop good posture and poise. She'll take pride in her room, too, when it has a full-length mirror just like Mother's and Daddy's.

EVERY HOME NEEDS at least one full-length door mirror... one at least 5 1/2 feet high. Most homes need two or three. Whatever the size of your door, one of our four standard size mirrors will fit it perfectly. Any of these sizes available in a simple, unframed venetian style to be installed with clips. Installation material supplied with mirrors.

NEWS OF INTEREST TO PA. FARMERS

By Ed Hauck

(I. N. S. Penna. Farm Editor)
HARRISBURG, Nov. 3 — (INS) — Many farmers throughout the state are wondering about the best crops to grow on land to be taken from wheat in 1950.

The State allotted $73,617 acres for wheat in 1950 which leaves 62,383 acres to be diverted to other use if all the farmers comply with individual allotments. In 1949 Pennsylvania farmers seeded 936,000 acres in wheat.

Clyde A. Zehner, chairman of the Pennsylvania Production and Marketing Administration Committee, came up with an answer to the question.

"Obviously it would only add to the problem to seed this land to some other crop that already has or will reach surplus proportions," Zehner pointed out.

"Seeding a good part of this land to adapted grass and legumes will not be piling up surpluses but rather will help to conserve land and water and build up plant reserves for future production," the chairman said.

Agronomists and soil specialists of the experiment station and extension service recommend the following grasses and legumes for the various conditions in Pennsylvania: Alfalfa, red clover, ladino, alsike clover, timothy, orchard grass.

brome grass and Kentucky blue grass.
For specific problems confronting individual farmers the experiment station advises contacting local farmer-committeemen. The Production and Marketing Administration Committee, also cooperating with farmers in the wheat diversion, has a local office at the disposal of interested farmers.

Completion of the dairy cattle breeding research laboratories at the Pennsylvania State College gives the State one of the most modern and complete laboratories devoted to studies in the artificial breeding of dairy cattle.

The official opening of laboratories was set for November 18-19. The facilities which include pens, barns and offices will open for inspection on these dates, according to Dr. D. V. Josephson, head of the dairy department.

Use of the artificial method for improving Pennsylvania's dairy herds increased rapidly in the past five years and the college realizing the need of an up-to-date research section constructed the brand new laboratories, according to Dr. John Almqvist, head of artificial research.

Always be careful when working with or around the mechanical corn picker. State agricultural engineers warn, if you don't want to be a one-armed farmer.

COACHES MEET
HERE TO BOOK
GAMES FOR 1950

MORRISVILLE, Nov. 3 — The coaches of the schools of the Lower Bucks County League met in the high school building yesterday and adopted their league schedules for the seasons of 1950, 1951, and 1952. The coaches had to do plenty of changing with their schedules so that there would be no conflicting dates. There is also a possibility that Morrisville may have to drop Trenton Catholic from its schedule. Southampton, a league team which could not place Bristol on its schedule this year, will play the Warriors mid-way in the season. Athletic director Harry McClister, of Bristol, has announced that his 1950 schedule is now complete and will be published at the close of this season.

SPORT NOTES

A Bristol youth, Joe Andriotti, of Washington Street, is making quite a name for himself as a backfield star of Northeast Catholic High School, of Philadelphia.

Frank Cantwell, who excelled on the gridiron at Bensalem Township High last season, is now in the backfield of the freshman team of East Stroudsburg State Teachers College. Cantwell's work has been so outstanding that there is a possibility that he may be promoted to the varsity team before the season closes. There is no freshman rule at East Stroudsburg.

According to reports, the University of Pennsylvania, is interested in the work of Bob Felver, flashy Morrisville back, basketball and track star.
